SOLAR PROTECTION

THE AUSTRALIAN GOLD STEPS FOR A PERFECT TAN?

1 Apply the TANNING COSMETIC

2 Once absorbed, apply the SUN SCREEN with PROTECTIVE ACTION (SPF)

In this way the tanning active ingredients are thoroughly absorbed without being "blocked" by the SPF which, applied as a second treatment, provides protection from UV rays. Nourished and smooth skin; stimulated melanin; protected skin.

SPF - acronym for Sun Factor Protection - associated with a numerical indication indicates the ability of the sunscreen to reduce the absorption of UVA and UVB rays

The SPF value is calculated by comparing the amount of time needed to produce a sunburn on skin protected with a filter and without a filter. Exposure times are extremely subjective and can vary due to multiple factors such as phototype, intensity of sunlight, sweating, frequency of swimming on the beach, etc. Indicatively, in the laboratory, a sunscreen with SPF50 absorbs 98% of UVA and UVB rays, SPF 30 absorbs approximately 96.7%, while sun protection factor 15 absorbs approximately 93.3%. Above protection 15, therefore, the differences in absorption become decidedly low.

SPF AUSTRALIAN GOLD: broad-spectrum photoprotection for treatments that help protect against UV and infrared rays.

Australian Gold treatments offer effective protection from UVA, UVB and infrared rays. The latter, in particular, are counteracted by the contribution of ingredients of botanical origin such as Kakadu Plum - very rich in Vitamin C - and active ingredients capable of stimulating the skin's natural defense mechanisms.

UVA, UVB and INFRARED: How they act

UVA rays: they are present in every season, even in bad weather, and at any time of the day. They are not filtered by the atmosphere and pass through clouds and physical screens such as glass. They are responsible for photoallergies and penetrate into the dermis, risking damaging DNA.

UVB rays: they are mainly present in the central hours of the day and in the summer season. They cause damage such as rashes and burns and are considered among the main culprits of DNA damage.

Infrared: transmit heat and reach the innermost layer of the dermis. They unleash free radicals causing skin aging and profound damage.
